

RSU Global!

APRIL 2026

www.ilc.rsu.ac.th □ ISSUE 005

As April begins, RSU Global continues to grow as an environment where students feel welcomed, supported, and encouraged to learn together. What makes our community unique is not only the programs we offer, but also the people behind them and those who actively participate.

support one another, and help create positive learning experiences for everyone.

As the Student Commissioner of RSU Global, I am grateful to collaborate with such a dedicated team. Our Head Team Leaders demonstrate strong responsibility and clear communication, ensuring our mentoring programs run effectively.

I sincerely thank our mentors for their time, effort, and commitment. Through your guidance, students build confidence, enhance communication skills, and develop both academically and personally.

Together, we have fostered a respectful and supportive community where students feel comfortable learning and sharing ideas. This month's newsletter highlights our continued progress, and I look forward to moving ahead together to make this semester meaningful for all.

We remain committed to strengthening our mentoring initiatives and expanding opportunities for student development. Let us continue to support one another with positivity, teamwork, and shared purpose. I am confident that together, we will achieve even greater success in the months ahead.

RIC PEER MENTOR OF THE MONTH

A peer mentor is a fellow student who guides and supports others, assisting them in adjusting to university life. Peer mentors play a vital role in supporting students.

They support students both academically and emotionally by offering study tips, language practice, and learning resources while encouraging confidence. They also assist new students during orientation and help create a friendly, welcoming environment.

Peer mentors bridge the gap between students and teachers, helping learners feel more connected, motivated, and supported. Through their guidance, they promote teamwork, collaboration, and a positive learning culture within the Language Center.

Looking ahead, the aim is to expand the number of peer mentors throughout the semester to strengthen the community and provide more personalized support. Each month, one peer mentor is recognized for their dedication, commitment, and positive impact on students and the Language Center. We sincerely appreciate their hard work, as their contributions continue to inspire both students and staff.

CULTURE CORNER

The Myanmar Thingyan Festival, also known as the Water Festival, is a traditional celebration marking the Myanmar New Year, held annually in April. It symbolizes purification, renewal, and the washing away of past misdeeds, with water-splashing activities representing cleansing and a fresh beginning. In addition to these festivities, many people participate in religious and cultural practices, such as visiting pagodas, offering donations, and performing acts of merit. Families and communities gather to prepare traditional foods and share joyful moments. Thingyan reflects values of unity, generosity, and respect, making it one of the most meaningful and widely celebrated festivals in Myanmar.

Moreover, Thingyan is an important time for reflection and cultural appreciation. Younger generations show respect to elders by seeking blessings, while communities organize performances, music, and dances that showcase Myanmar's heritage. The festival strengthens social bonds and preserves traditions for future generations, representing renewal, harmony, and a shared sense of identity. It also promotes a spirit of unity and mutual respect among people across the country.

PROGRAMS IN ACTION: HOW RSU GLOBAL! ALIGNS WITH THESE RIC COURSES:

ENL/ILE 125: ENGLISH FOR GLOBAL EXPLORATION

This course helps students build a strong English foundation while exploring global issues and cultures.

This course is part of RIC's core English foundation program and supports RSU GLOBAL!'s commitment to promoting global awareness and cross-cultural understanding. Students develop communication and presentation skills through interactive activities, cultural exchanges, and collaborative learning with PAL mentors. Through diverse discussions, learners gain confidence in expressing ideas within multicultural settings. In addition to enhancing language proficiency, the course fosters curiosity, teamwork, and meaningful connections across cultures.

ENL/ILE 126: ENGLISH IN TED

This course focuses on speaking and presentation skills through a TED-style learning approach.

This course develops students' speaking and presentation skills through a TED-inspired approach. It fosters creativity, clarity, and confidence while strengthening persuasive communication abilities. Learners practice organizing ideas, applying storytelling techniques, and engaging audiences effectively. With mentor guidance, students gain confidence in delivering well-structured, impactful presentations and expressing their ideas professionally to international audiences.

ENL/ILE 127: ENGLISH AT WORK

Designed in line with RSU GLOBAL!'s goals, this course emphasizes practical English skills for professional and real-world workplace settings.

Students develop effective communication skills through interactive exercises, role-plays, and mentor-led discussions based on real business scenarios. With a strong emphasis on teamwork, critical thinking, and intercultural communication, learners practice expressing themselves clearly in meetings, interviews, and collaborative tasks.

The course equips students with the confidence and professionalism needed for diverse working environments while strengthening problem-solving skills through active participation. As a result, students become better prepared to communicate effectively in international settings.

RSU/IRS 127: INTERCULTURAL COMMUNICATION

Aligned with RSU GLOBAL!'s mission, this course prepares students to communicate successfully across

Through interactive activities, group projects, and collaboration with PAL mentors, students develop greater cultural awareness, empathy, and adaptability. Participants gain the confidence and understanding needed to engage respectfully in global conversations.

The course equips learners with essential intercultural communication skills for success in academic, professional, and social settings, while encouraging them to become open-minded global citizens who contribute positively to international communities. Ultimately, these experiences enable students to build meaningful connections across cultures and perspectives.

UPCOMING PEER MENTOR TRAINING MODULES BY OUR PRODEV TEAM:

Professional Communication For Global Mentors

This training module helps mentors understand how different ways of using English can affect communication and mentoring.

By maintaining an open mindset, respecting diverse backgrounds, and understanding individual identities, peer mentors develop deeper language awareness beyond correct grammar. It involves listening without judgment and appreciating how others express themselves. Through group discussions and reflective activities, mentors become more empathetic and open. This strengthens trust, enhances teamwork, and supports RSU Global's goal of promoting intercultural understanding.

Collaborative Projects Design and Innovation

This module introduces a mentoring approach that encourages mentors and mentees to work together on meaningful projects.

Through collaboration, mentees become more motivated and confident, while mentors learn to guide projects in a supportive manner. This approach promotes learning from real experiences, encourages continuous improvement, and enhances creative thinking. These skills are valuable not only in university life but also for future careers. As a result, both mentors and mentees grow together, developing leadership, responsibility, and essential learning skills.

Research Projects Planned:

Dr. Edward's Research Factory

During the April academic period, a research study titled "Peer-Assisted Learning as a Platform for Intercultural Development among Thai Students in Applied Sciences, Technology, and Health Sciences" is being conducted. This study explores how Peer-Assisted Learning (PAL) serves as an effective platform for promoting intercultural development among Thai undergraduate students across applied sciences, technology, and health sciences disciplines.

Through collaborative learning experiences, the research examines how students from diverse cultural backgrounds engage with one another, exchange knowledge, and develop essential academic and interpersonal skills. Particular focus is placed on how PAL environments encourage active participation, strengthen communication abilities, and create meaningful opportunities for cross-cultural interaction.

The findings are expected to demonstrate that Peer-Assisted Learning not only enhances academic outcomes but also plays a vital role in fostering intercultural competence. By working together in structured peer-learning settings, students broaden their perspectives, build mutual understanding, and develop the adaptability needed in increasingly globalized academic and professional contexts.

This research paper is scheduled to be presented at the upcoming RSU Conference, contributing valuable insights into the integration of collaborative learning strategies and intercultural development in higher education.

Thai Mentees

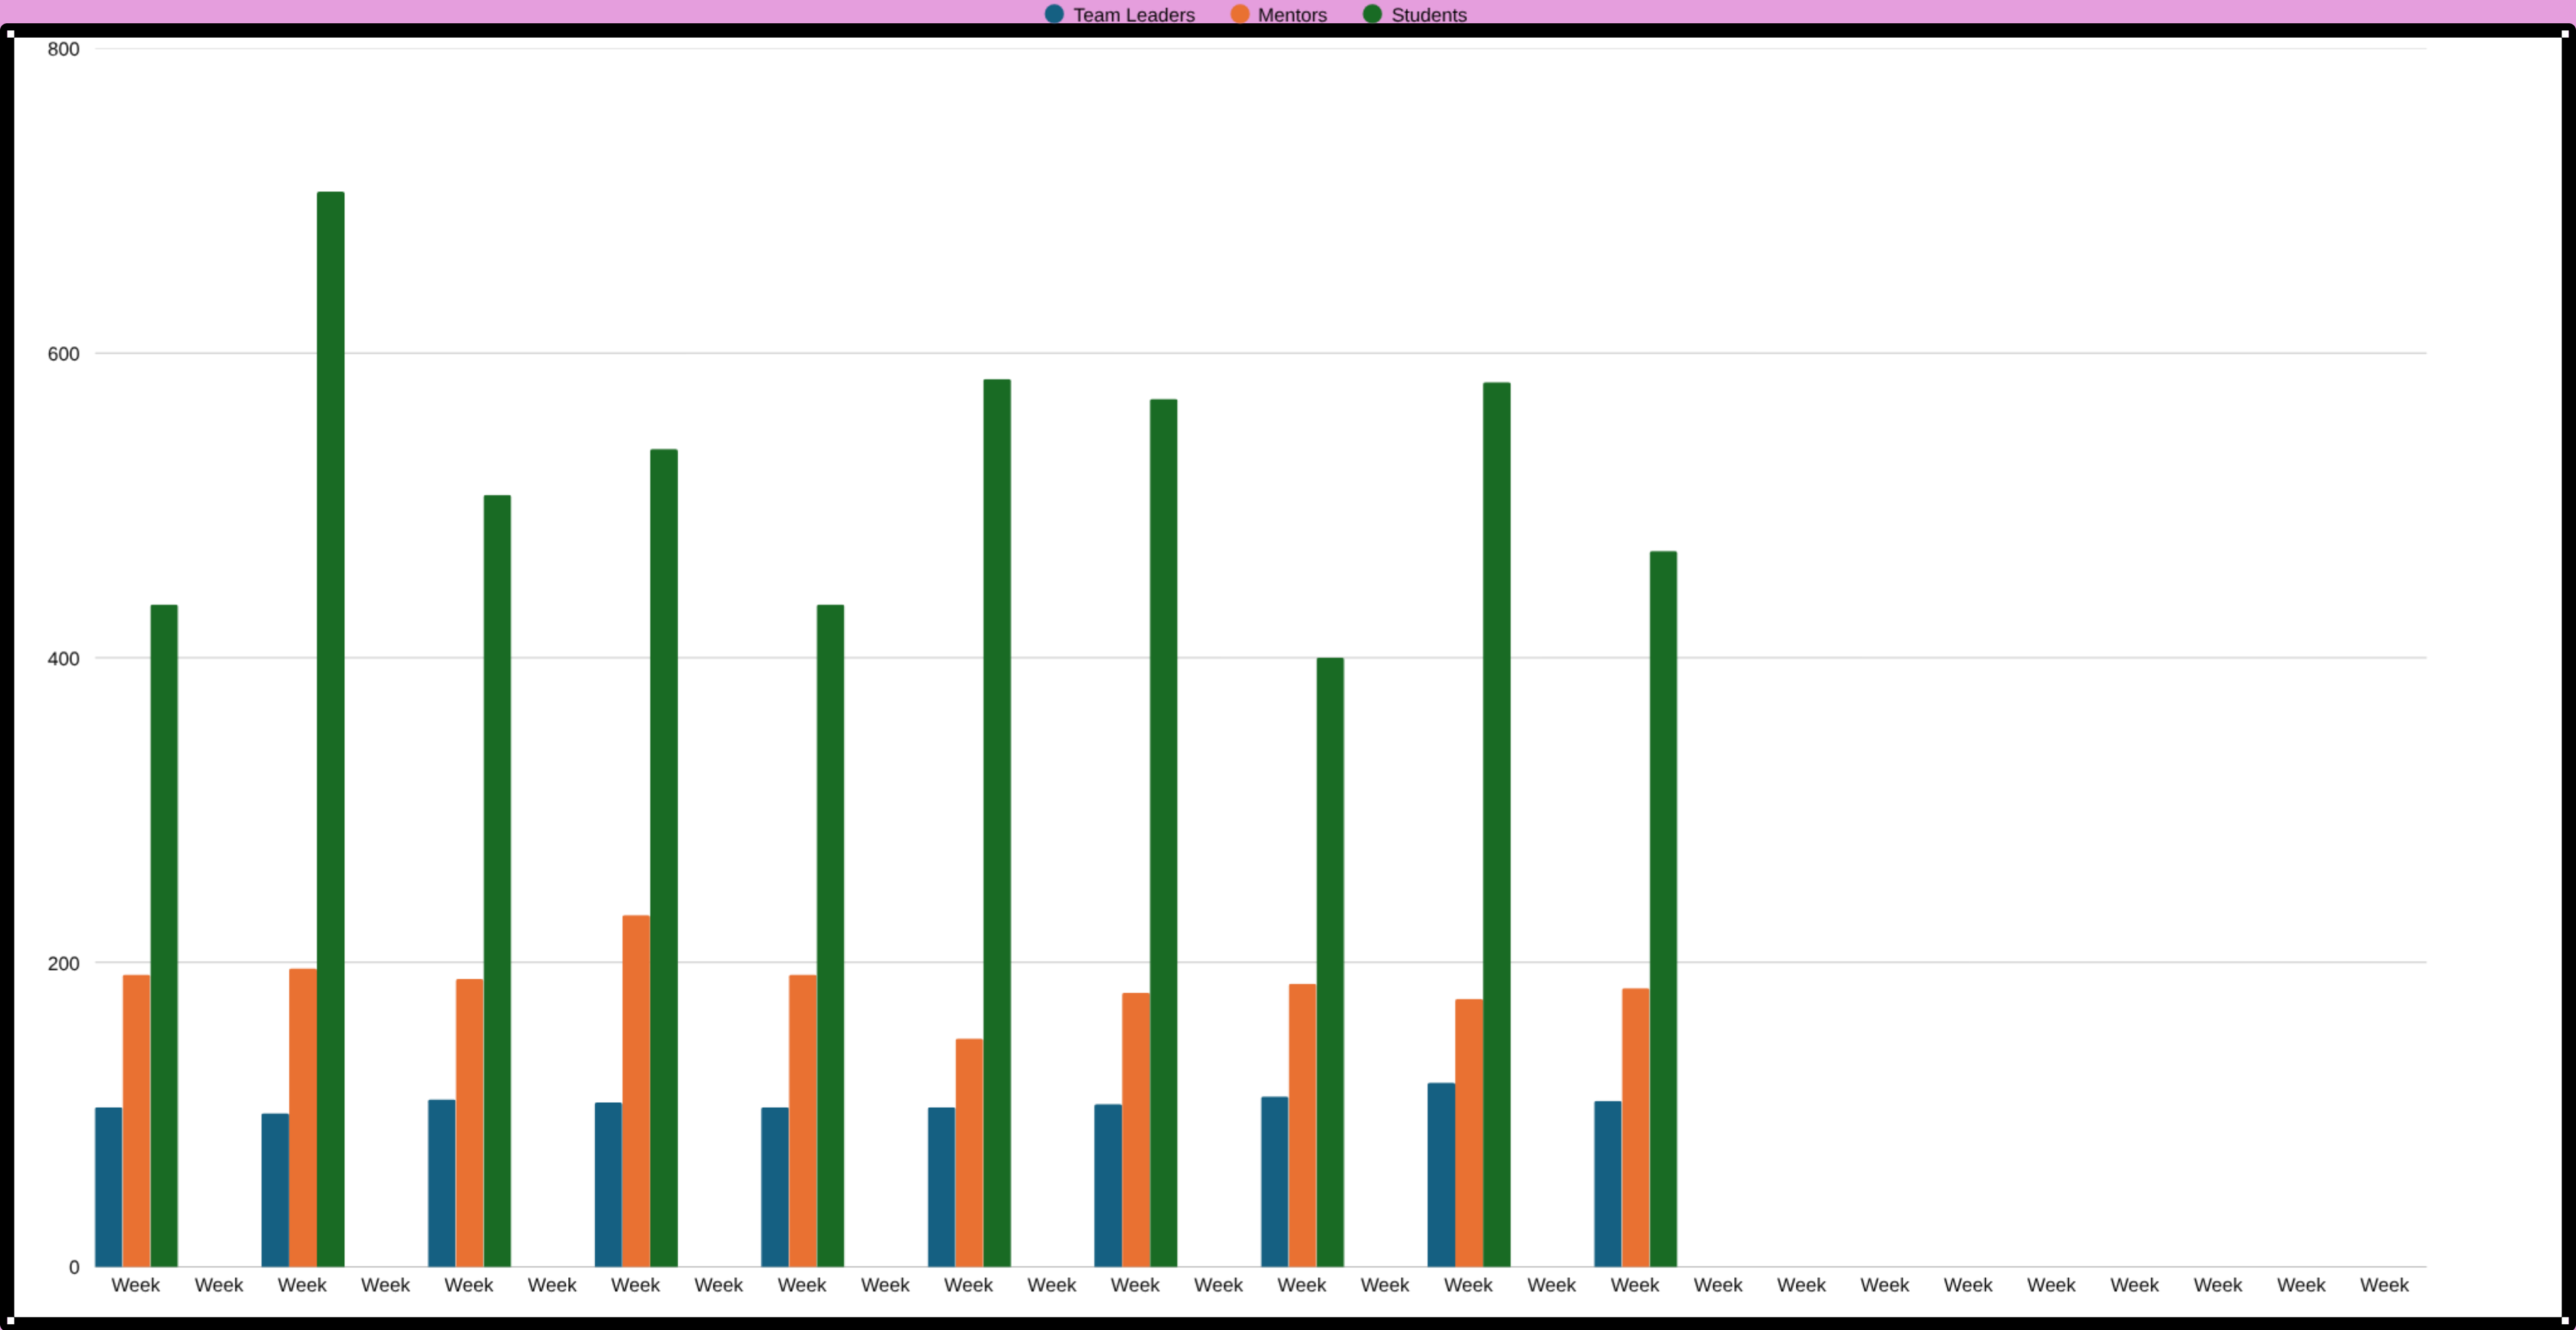

ENL/ILE 126: English In TED (Thai Program)

Students in ENL 126 enhance their English speaking skills through active interaction and collaboration with international peer mentors. They participate in discussions, debates, and communication activities within a supportive and welcoming environment.

Through these activities, Thai students build confidence in expressing their ideas clearly and naturally. They also develop essential communication and presentation skills applicable to real-life contexts, including public speaking, academic discussions, and professional communication. These experiences prepare them to communicate effectively in both local and international environments.
